

Panel of solicitors

Buying your first home is a big step. There are many important things to consider, and you need to know that your purchase is in the hands of a professional. That's why Moat has a panel of solicitors who have been specially selected to represent you.

The organisations on this panel have shown that they provide high levels of service and will explain the legal process to you every step of the way. Just as important is their specialist experience in dealing with shared ownership, which makes a big difference to how smoothly and quickly your purchase goes through.
